Dedication

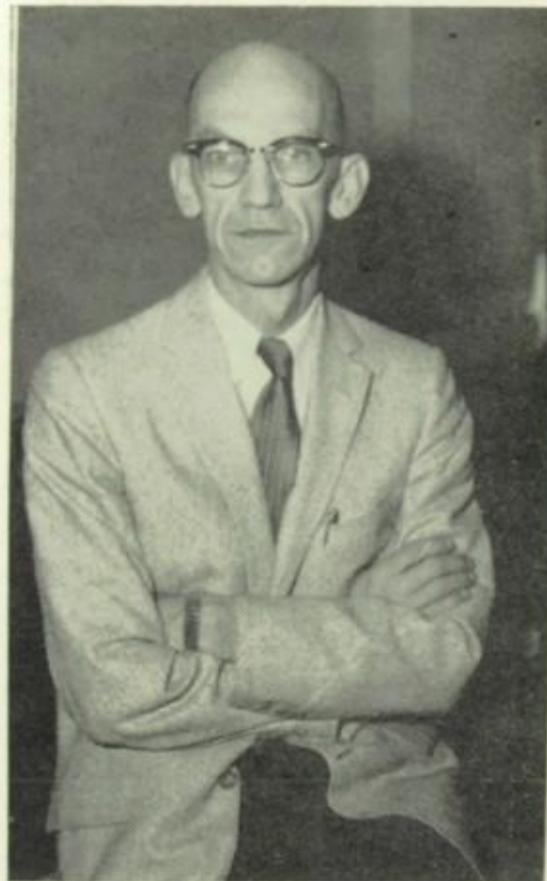

... because — as teacher, counselor, friend — you have inspired, guided, understood us . . . because, through your personal magnanimity and professional excellence, you have become an inseparable part of our high school years . . . and thus, because high school will always mean the more to us for your having been identified with it . . . we inscribe with your name this record of our activities at Wellsville High School in 1958, as a lasting mark of our deep respect and affection for you—

Miss Ruth Irwin
English Instructor, III and IV

A flash of light through the corridors, a form leaping up two flights of stairs, a calm voice on the air, a firm presence behind a desk, — is it a bird? is it a plane? is it a rocket? is it Superman? no — it is our principal,

WILLIAM MENOUGH, B.A., M. Ed.

Mr. Menough became principal of Wellsville High School in 1952 after having taught both in MacDonald Elementary School and Wellsville High School and serving as principal of MacDonald for two years. His fine sense of humor and ability for organization have effectively handled the many exasperating problems that the administration of our high school entails.

Some men are gifted teachers, some are wise administrators, some are successful merchants, some are civic leaders; our superintendent is all in one — a man of many talents — and all directed in behalf of our school and our city.

SEWARD E. DAW, B.A., M.A., Ph.D.

Dr. Daw has been Superintendent of Wellsville schools for thirty-two years. Before coming to Wellsville, he was the principal of the Muskingum County Village Schools and the Superintendent of Caldwell City Schools. Besides his duties in school administration, Dr. Daw has made contributions to the field of education as the co-author of an elementary spelling book, My Speller, and the author of a series of elementary readers, The Successful Living Series.

Board of Education

These Men Work Toward Progress

The most important achievement of the board of education in the past year is the passage of a levy for school maintenance. The board has also been formulating many tentative plans for the enlargement and improvement of the school curriculum and facilities. To these men belong a great part of the credit for the steady progress being made in the Wellsville school system.

Seated: Russell Dysert, Dr. S. E. Daw, Earl Bake, president. Standing: Raymond Rolley, clerk; William Bush (recently resigned and replaced by Richard Rowe), Donald Wellington, David Brookman.

These Men Work Toward Order

These three men are an inseparable part of the life of Wellsville High School. If the halls have a bright, shining appearance, all the credit is theirs—not ours.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

Mr. Charles King performs before, and with, enthusiastic audience.

Ralph Lewis directs daily Bible reading schedule.

Student Council provides informative Swiss program.

Student Council Governs Student Activities

The Senior High School Student Council represents the student body in equal representation. Each homeroom selects a delegate and an alternate. These people meet under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Kerr. Many high school activities are directed by the Student Council, notably chapel services, recreation night, several dances, Homecoming festivities, a talent assembly, several paid assemblies, and morning and afternoon public address programs and announcements. An annual Christmas Formal also is sponsored by this governing body. Proceeds from recreation night are used to replace games and records, and this year a public address unit was purchased for the gymnasium. Two waste receptacles were bought and placed at the entrances of the school, and are serving to keep litter from the sidewalks. The group stages a school clean-up campaign each spring.

Student Council

Special Assemblies Arranged By Student Council

At somewhat irregular intervals during the school year, special assemblies are provided by the Student Council. These range from the informative to the entertaining in nature.

One of the best received was the program given by Mr. Charles King. This year's was his fourth visit to the high school, and he was as well applauded as he was on his first program. He has an especial talent for audience participation, and the four-part harmony produced surprised even the student body.

Rev. Bob Richards' talk was inspiring as well as entertaining, as was the program on Switzerland.

As far as possible, the special programs are provided without charge, but when a charge is necessary, it is merely to cover the cost of the program. By keeping the number of such assemblies to a minimum, and of the highest type, the student body has learned to look forward to them.

Hard Work, Midnight Oil Produces '58 Yearbook

When an annual staff is selected, not one senior has a vague idea of the immense amount of work involved. It is almost pure drudgery, even in the planning stage, and hundreds of hours of photography, developing, sorting, selecting, drawing, cropping, proof-reading, calling on advertisers, and plain worrying go into the making of an annual. It is all paid for in the moment when the finished book is placed in the hands of those who spent those long hours. And in later years, when we come upon the annual of the class of '58, perhaps gathering dust in some far-off place, these hours will have gathered the golden patina of the years and we will remember only the fun and none of the hard work.

May we here express our appreciation for the help given us by our sponsor, Mr. Charles Wilfing, and of the kind patience of Mrs. Wilfing.

Character . . . Leadership . . . Scholarship . . . Service

One of the highest honors which can be attained by a high school student is membership in the National Honor Society. Demonstration of qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service is required, along with a record of high scholastic attainment. Each year names of eligible juniors and seniors are submitted to the vote of members of the faculty under the direction of the co-sponsors, Mrs. Estelle Elton and Mr. William Menough.

The calendar includes a candle-light initiation service, given at a senior high school assembly, and a dinner-and-theater party for members and sponsors.

One senior and thirteen juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society on March 25th. President Terry Tipton and Mrs. Elton planned the impressive ceremonies which were held on a platform dominated by the great keystone symbol of the national organization. New members signed the book, adding their names to the 278 scholars who had proudly worn the tiny replicas of the keystone symbol in the twenty-one years the chapter has been active in Wellsville High School.

Y-Teens

Y-Teens Largest Girl Organization

The Y-Teens is affiliated with the national YWCA. When first formed in Wellsville High School, the group was known as the Girl Reserves, and still uses the letters of that title to describe a genuine Y-Teen: G-racious in manner, Impartial in judgment, R-eady for service, Loyal to friends, R-everent to God, E-ager for knowledge, Searching for the best, E-arnest in purpose, V-ictorious over self, E-ver dependable, Sincere at all times.

Mrs. Estelle Elton, Miss Mahala Ingram, and Miss Luella Thompson have sponsored the senior high club for many years. Some of the activities, in addition to by-weekly meetings are the conducting of the Junior Red Cross drive in high school and a formal dance, the Sweetheart Dance, in February. This year, the theme was Moonlight Serenade and the Glenn Ross orchestra furnished the music.

Large Staff Works On Tiger Rag

A great many students — from seventh through twelfth grades — work on the high school paper, the Tiger Rag. Some write news articles, some sport stories, many type, some write headlines, some cut stencils or run the mimeograph machine. Every other Friday, students look forward to buying a copy and hope to find their name in print. It is a newsy, gossipy sort of paper, and has improved steadily throughout the year. The appearance of the Tiger Rag benefited greatly with the use of the new mimeograph machine, purchased in part by the Commercial Club. Miss Loujetta Webster is sponsor and Janet Chenoweth is editor of the Tiger Rag.

Future Teachers Learn by Doing

The local chapter of Future Teachers of America provides its members with ample opportunity to discover if their talents will best suit them for careers in the teaching profession. Each member was called upon often during the year to take over actual classes and conduct them as well as possible, even if little time for preparation was given. Those interested in elementary work were placed in elementary classrooms,—usually when no qualified teacher substitute was available, and our people were praised by principals and teachers for their good work. Social high points are the spring cover-dish when college friends are guests, and the installation dinner near the close of the school year. Miss Irwin is chapter sponsor.

Future Homemakers of America

F.H.A. Teaches "Thrift Begins At Home"

The future homemakers organization in our high school is just one chapter of this large national organization. The aim of this group is to further interest in home economics for future benefit in family life as well as in a career. Various guest speakers helped encourage this interest in the girls. The social highlight of the year was a Mother-Daughter Banquet held in the home economics room. This group is under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Jordan and Mrs. Margaret Doyle.

F. N. A. Encourages Career Selection

All girls that are sincerely interested in nursing as a career are urged to join the Future Nurses of America, a national organization. Under the leadership of Mrs. Jennie Calhoun, school nurse, these girls meet regularly to discuss nursing and to hear talks by people in that field. Many girls from this organization enter schools of nursing each year.

Students Help In Principal's Office

It is considered an honor to be asked to work as office assistant to Mrs. Jayne Kata. Class scheduling is considered, of course, but junior and senior girls in the commercial department who display qualities of poise, neatness, and willingness are given preference. Among other things, they answer the telephone, deliver messages, type, and operate the mimeograph.

Latin Club Stages Annual Roman Banquet

All members of Latin Classes I and II form the Latin Club which is affiliated with the National Classical League. This club sponsors a Roman Banquet which is planned to resemble as closely as possible in menu and dress the banquet of the period of Julius Caesar. The sponsor is Miss Elvada Marshall.

Club Espanol Meets In Regular Class Periods

The Spanish Club is really in two sections—Spanish I and Spanish II. Some of the purposes of the club are to serve as a laboratory of Spanish conversation, to present facts about Spanish culture, such as dancing, painting, and literature, and to lay the foundation for a continuing interest in Spain and other Spanish-speaking countries, including countries of South America.

It is planned to have an outing late in the spring, and feature some items of Spanish entertainment and foods. Miss Rochelle Hood is the advisor.

SPANISH CLUB OFFICERS AND SPONSOR: Standing: Frank Stockman, John Comparetta, Chuck Merriman, Eddie Bauer, Jim Stevens. Sitting: Sam D'Angelo, Janet Wilson, Miss Hood, Faye Ricci.

Commercial Club

Today's Commercial Student Tomorrow's Secretary

The main purpose of the Commercial Club is to better acquaint commercial students with secretarial work. To become a member one must be either a commercial student or have two years of typing. This year one of the club's projects was the purchase of an electric mimeograph machine. The group's sponsor is Mr. Polesky, commercial teacher.

Student Secretaries

Student Secretaries Get Practical Experience

Each teacher is assigned a senior business student as his or her secretary. These students cut stencils, type letters, and perform other duties of a secretarial nature. Both teachers and students benefit from this service—the teacher by having much of the mechanical work taken off his hands, and the student by gaining useful practice experience. The work of these students forms part of their business practice grade.

Librarians Assist In Library Routine

Student Librarians conduct much of the business in the library. Girls and boys who are interested in library work help Mrs. Helen Welch, librarian, by signing out books, replacing magazines and keeping order in the library.

Each year, the librarians in groups visit some school or public library. These groups visited East Liverpool Senior High and Westgate libraries. A Christmas party was held at McGeehan's Restaurant. At the end of the year, the librarians are presented with pins recognizing the number of years they have worked in the library.

Key Club Membership Is Selective

An honor club for boys was established in the high school this year, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. This organization selects its membership on the basis of school standing and qualities of leadership. Service to the school and the community is the aim of the Key Club. Two of their projects are to surface the school parking lot, and to put up sign posts for the River Museum. The advisor in high school is Mr. Charles Wilfing.

Camera Club Learns Techniques In Photography

Almost everyone is bitten by the photography "bug" sometime or other. Camera enthusiasts in the Camera Club pool their experiences, and together learn how to get better results from their picture-taking. From light-meter, to dark room, step-by-step instruction and discussion form the programs of the meetings of this group. During the year, a visit to the Horsley Studio gave an insight into the professional aspects of photography and each one tried his skill at studio shots of a model.

Projection Club Operates Movie Projector

Scheduled moving pictures on educational subjects are projected by members of the Projection Club who assign their members by periods and days. Each member is a trained projectionist who is responsible for the condition of the projector and the film while he or she is on duty. The Visual Education room will be used for all movies as soon as the screen is in place. Drapes to darken the room suitably were hung this spring. Mr. Mato is club sponsor.

School Spirit Developed By Pep Club

The Pep Club was formed to help build school spirit and in two years has gradually grown into a valuable school organization. The club attended games in a group, and raised money through fudge sales and a skating party to buy a large W. H. S. banner and letters for 2-year members. Mr. Roy Hodge and Miss Vera Delaney are co-sponsors of the club.

W. H. S. Band Wins Wide Recognition

No high school activity demands as much of its members as the high school band. Putting on a football game half-time show requires many hours of planning, rehearsal, and practice on the field. The concert work of this group is outstanding, and here again, many hours of practice outside regular school time are responsible for the high degree of artistry displayed by the musicians. District and state ratings of superior have been won over past years. Mr. Gene Greco, director, demands and receives performance of an almost perfect nature.

The Military Ball is one of the events of the year, and the marching band takes part in the parades in the area. The majorettes have won wide acclaim as one of the finest precision marching groups in the area.

Harmoneers Feature Spiritual Songs

In two years, the Harmoneers have established quite a name for themselves in the school and surrounding communities. This group of young singers appeared on television after winning second prize in a talent show at Newell High School. The well-known singer, Charles King, when he gave a concert in the high school, was impressed by their singing and encouraged them to continue working together. Mrs. Helen Welch was the originator of this group and is their sponsor.

Selected Group From Chorus Sing at Special Events

Whenever a call is made for a smaller group of singers to sing at events in the school and community, these selected singers have been ready to appear. Each member has an especially good voice, and has been trained to blend his or her voice in the harmonious arrangements in which they specialize. They have been singing together for two years, but graduation will remove five of their number. It is to be hoped that lower classmen will fill in the gaps and this superior organization will continue to entertain us.

Chorus Pleases at Many School Programs

The mixed chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Lawton, appeared at many school programs, showing the effect of hours of rehearsal. Their singing was appreciated at bi-monthly chapel programs and at student assemblies. Together with other musical groups of the school, the chorus appears in two public concerts — the Christmas and Spring Festivals. Their final assignment each year is to provide music at the Baccalaureate services. This year the chorus boasted an unusual number of fine male voices. The black robes with orange panels give the choir an impressive appearance.

Christmas Formal First Formal Dance of the Year

The high point of the holiday season is the annual Christmas Formal sponsored by the Student Council. This year a large Christmas tree in the center of the floor, a sleigh with Santa Claus and his reindeer, and red and green paper streamers gave the gym a holiday atmosphere. Frank Craven and his orchestra provided the music.

Carolyn Heffner, Joyce Santimarino and Theresa Johnson serve punch.

Moonlight Serenade Theme of Sweetheart Dance

This year's annual Sweetheart Dance sponsored by the Y-teens was set in a moonlit garden. A variety of multi-colored flowers overflowed large white urns placed around the dance floor. The entrance to the garden was formed by two white hearts and a golden lock. President of Y-Teens Sondra Barnes and her escort Jay Dysert led the grand march to the music of the Glenn Ross Orchestra. This dance, decorated by a committee headed by Susan McIntire, was one of the most beautiful formals of the year.

The president and treasurer of Y-Teens, Sondra Barnes and Linda Armstrong, and their escorts lead the grand march.

Largest Attendance of the Year at Military Ball

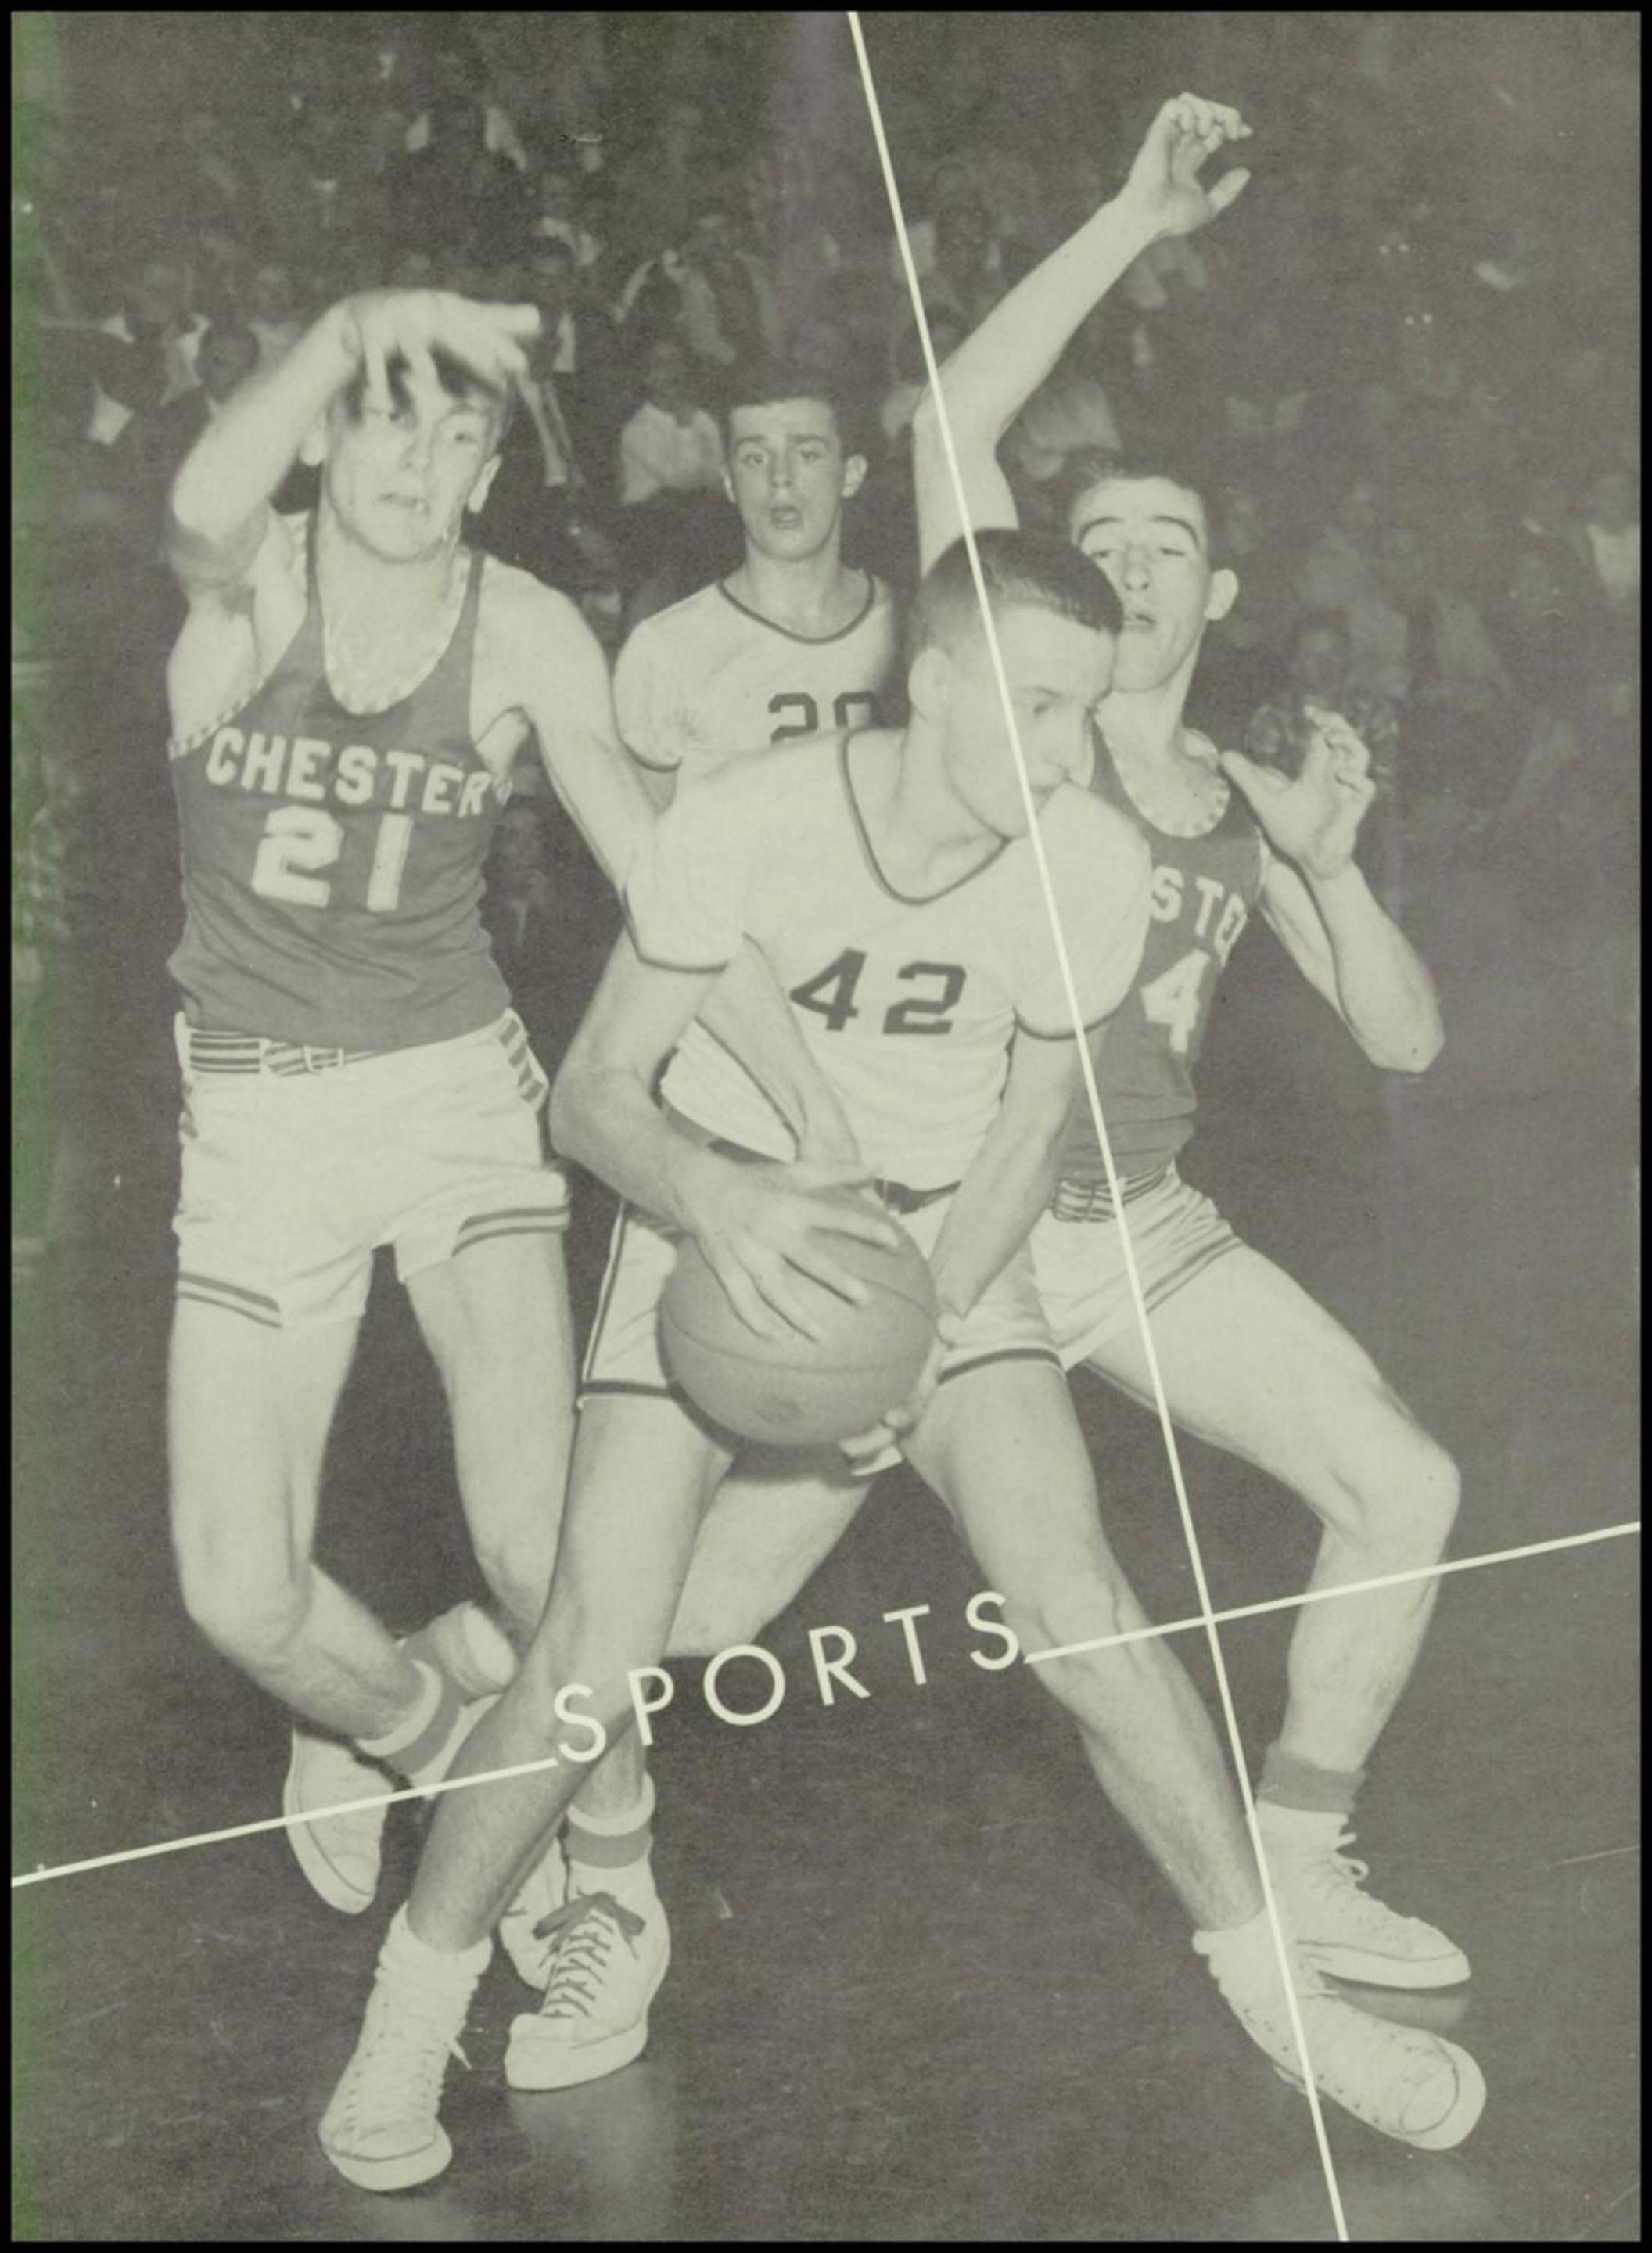

Approximately 200 couples, consisting mostly of local and visiting bandmembers and their dates crowded the floor at the annual Military Ball. Elaborate decorations changed Beacom Memorial Gymnasium into a wonderland of many colored lights and flowers. Shades of purple and green streamers enclosed the ceiling and walls.

Queen Sandy Nelson and King John Creaturo were crowned by last year's king and queen Mary Jane Buchanan and Tom Wilson. The attendants for the king and queen were Virginia Ours and John Haugh. The ladies in waiting were Carol Croft, Joan Dash, Betty Knox, Myrna Jenkins, Joy Paletta, Barbara Phillips, and Mary Ann Welch.

1957 Bengals Develop New Talent

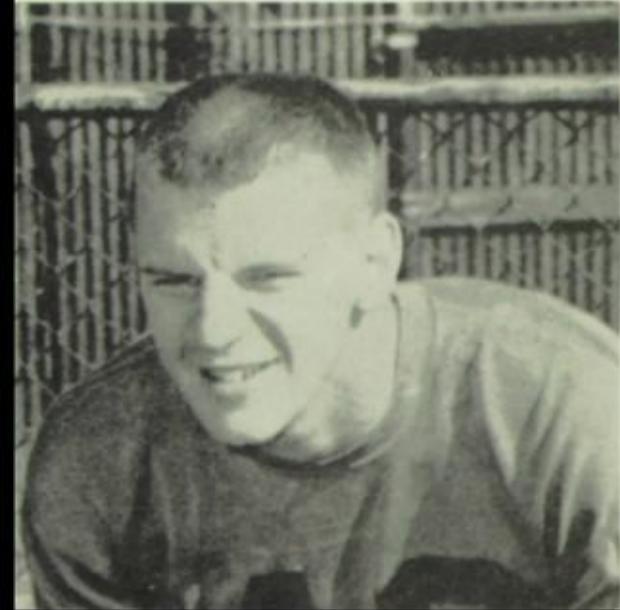

This year's edition of the Bengal football team, under the direction of their new head coach, William Radd, finished the season with a 3-won and 6-lost record, but in the meantime new talent was discovered that may portend better things for future years. The team started off slow, losing to Brookfield and Toronto. Both of these games could have been won by either team, depending on the breaks of the game. After that came undefeated Chester, who came in for an easy win, but left on the short end of a 19-13 score. The next week, the locals traveled to Canton Lehman, only to lose to the Bulldogs. Cadiz expected to beat us, but we pulled a big upset on them. Asiatic flu cancelled out the Salem contest. Then came Jefferson Union, the Homecoming Game. After leading all the way, the Orange and Black slipped and let J.U. score two touchdowns in the last four minutes. A trip down the river, and the Bengals racked up one of the highest scores in years in defeating Bridgeport. In the next two games, against Bellaire St. John's and Lisbon, nothing seemed to go right and we lost them both. It was quite a season, with a lot of good and not-so-good football played, and one we'll long remember.

Chester Game High Point of Season

Some 2,000 fans turned out to see the Wellsville Bengals upset the Chester Panthers. The fired-up Bengals, after a series of rushing plays, hit pay-dirt when halfback John Long ran a 30-yard double reverse. Chester then took over, but the stubborn Wellsville line would not budge, and they were forced to punt. Early again in the 2nd quarter, after a series of sustained drives, quarterback Andy Holowaty slipped over from the 2-yard line. Wellsville's determined line gave not at all, and the half ended 12-0 Wellsville.

Chester came back strong and hit for their first score of the game. Later in the third quarter, Chub Carter barrelled over from the 5-yard line, and Holowaty carried for the extra point: Wellsville 19, Chester 6. About the middle of the fourth quarter, Chester scored their final touchdown, and the game ended with the Bengals on the long end of the 19-13 tally.

New Coaches: New Techniques

William Radd, head coach, came to Wellsville from Irondale. He graduated from Mississippi State with a B.A. in Physical Education, and coached at Carthage, Mississippi.

Jack McDevitt, assistant, graduated from Fairmont State, West Virginia, with a B.A. in Physical Education. He coached in North Carolina before coming to Wellsville. After leaving us for a year in California, he returned to Wellsville in 1955.

Carl Firm, assistant, is in his first coaching assignment here this year. He graduated from Kent State University in 1957.

At any football or basketball game in the area, much attention is given to the cheer-leading groups who work hard to urge their teams on to victory. Wellsville is justly proud of their girls who strive to put pep and originality into their formations. Hours of practice produced unusual effects which received favorable comment everywhere they went.

Reserve games had their own group of cheerleaders. These girls move up into the varsity after a year or two in the reserves. Both groups have their own unique costumes.

Homecoming Is Football Season Event

Homecoming Dance Annual Affair

The night of October 30, five senior girls waited impatiently for the half-time ceremonies of the Jefferson Union—Wellsville football game. These girls had been elected days before as the group from which the Homecoming Queen would be selected. Amid traditional ceremonies, Carol Croft was crowned Wellsville's Homecoming Queen of 1958 by John Haugh, senior class president. Her four princesses were Susan McIntire, assistant editor of '58 Tiger Tales; Joan Nightingale, senior class secretary; Kathy Rife, assistant drum major; Erla Wolfe, 1957 prom queen. The Student Council presented each girl a colorful bouquet.

Escorts for the girls were Terry Nelson, Lonnie Bemis, John Long, Frank Pucci, and John Wilkes.

In honor of the Homecoming Queen, Carol Croft, and her court, Susan McIntire, Joan Nightingale, Kathy Rife, and Erla Wolfe, the annual Homecoming Dance was held November 4, in the Beacom Memorial Gymnasium. The student council sponsored this semi-formal and erected a goal post in the middle of the floor. Orange and black footballs and streamers were used for an entrance.

Basketball Team Thrills Loyal Fans

With a new head coach, Jack McDevitt, in charge, this year's basketball team was an unpredictable one. In one game their play was terrific, and in the next they could not do anything right. Many games were lost by a narrow margin, often by the entire team having a bad night at the foul line. With the right breaks we could have won 5 or 6 more games.

In the first game of the season, East Palestine won in overtime. Against Lisbon and East Liverpool, the team seemed to fall apart in the second half. The Bengals bounced back to beat Mingo in a hard-fought contest. But after this great display, the Orange and Black allowed Bellaire St. John's to emerge the victor. Again, after playing good ball the first halves, we lost the next two games to Toronto and Steubenville Central. The fourth straight loss came at the hands of Chester. Then the team seemed to come to life, and won four of their next six games, — Newell, Bellaire St. John's, Steubenville Central, and avenged themselves on Chester. The team gave Salem, the fifth-ranked team in the state, one of their toughest games of the year, before going down in glorious defeat. Against Goshen Union and Toronto, the Bengals couldn't seem to get the right combination going to win, but came back against Weirton Madonna. In the last game of the regular season, Wellsville lost a second time to East Liverpool.

In tournament play, Wellsville whipped Jefferson Union in its first contest. After leading top-seeded Toronto for three quarters, the Bengals faltered in the start of the fourth quarter, and before they could regain their form, Toronto had won.

The reserve basketball situation was in the hands of a coach new to Wellsville, Carl Firm. The season record does not look good on paper, — winning and losing the same number as the varsity, — but most of their games were close and all were exciting. One of the best was with Goshen Union. Trailing fifteen points going into the fourth quarter, the Bengal Cubs tallied fifteen points successively to tie the game up and send it into overtime, only to lose by one point. It was a great display of spirit and determination, and should give us hope for a winning varsity in another year or two. If these freshmen and sophomores continue along these lines, Wellsville should have its best team since the days of "Bevo".

Kneeling: Wayne Elliott, Bob Brown, Dick Kountz, Phil Baldwin, Lannie Blakely. Standing: Mac Comparetta, Eddie Bauer, Bob Kiggans, Bob Delposen, Franklin Jackson, Milton Lamp, Raymond Franklin.

The 1957 track squad is headed by five returning lettermen. As we go to press, the outlook is for a fairly successful season, and, if the freshmen continue to come out for the sport, for an exceptionally good team in the next few years.

The thinclads are to participate in several dual meets as well as the Bellaire Relays, Toronto Invitational, and the County and District meets. It is to be hoped that some qualify for the State Meet. Wellsville may have, for the first time in years, a track meet at home. William Radd is track coach.

The returning lettermen are John Long, Tom Siudak, John Dalonzo, George Peller, and Dan Baldwin.

Girls' Intramurals Develop Team Spirit

Volley-ball, basketball, and line soccer give the girls in the physical education department opportunity to develop and display athletic prowess. Teams are selected from gym classes and the elimination ends in finals played during the noon hour.

A high point this year was when a selected girls' team, playing boys' basketball rules, engaged in a riotous contest with a team of boys, each wearing boxing gloves. Even so, the boys won. Miss Delaney is in charge of the girls' intramural program.

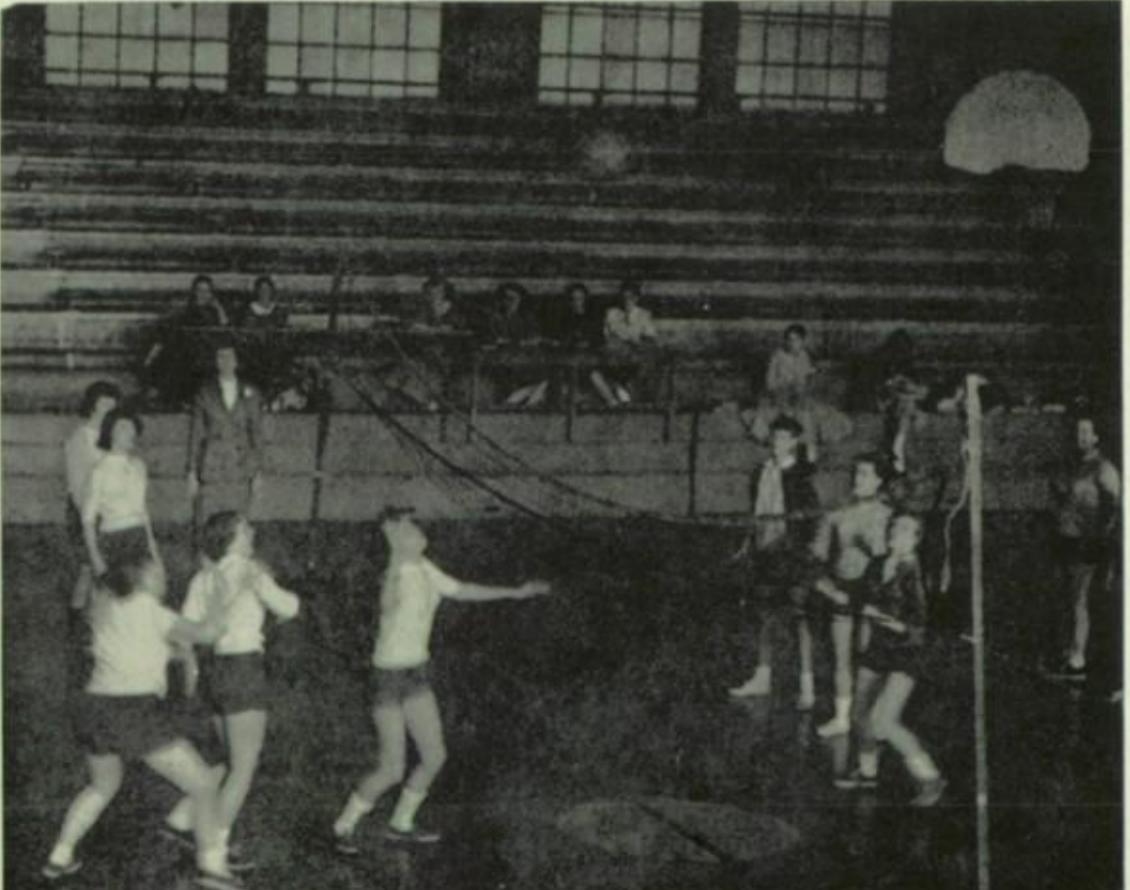

Kneeling: Ila Buzzard, Barbara Rawlings, Joyce Thompson, Sharon Grimm. Standing: Carol Bunfill, Miss Delaney, Sandy DeJane.

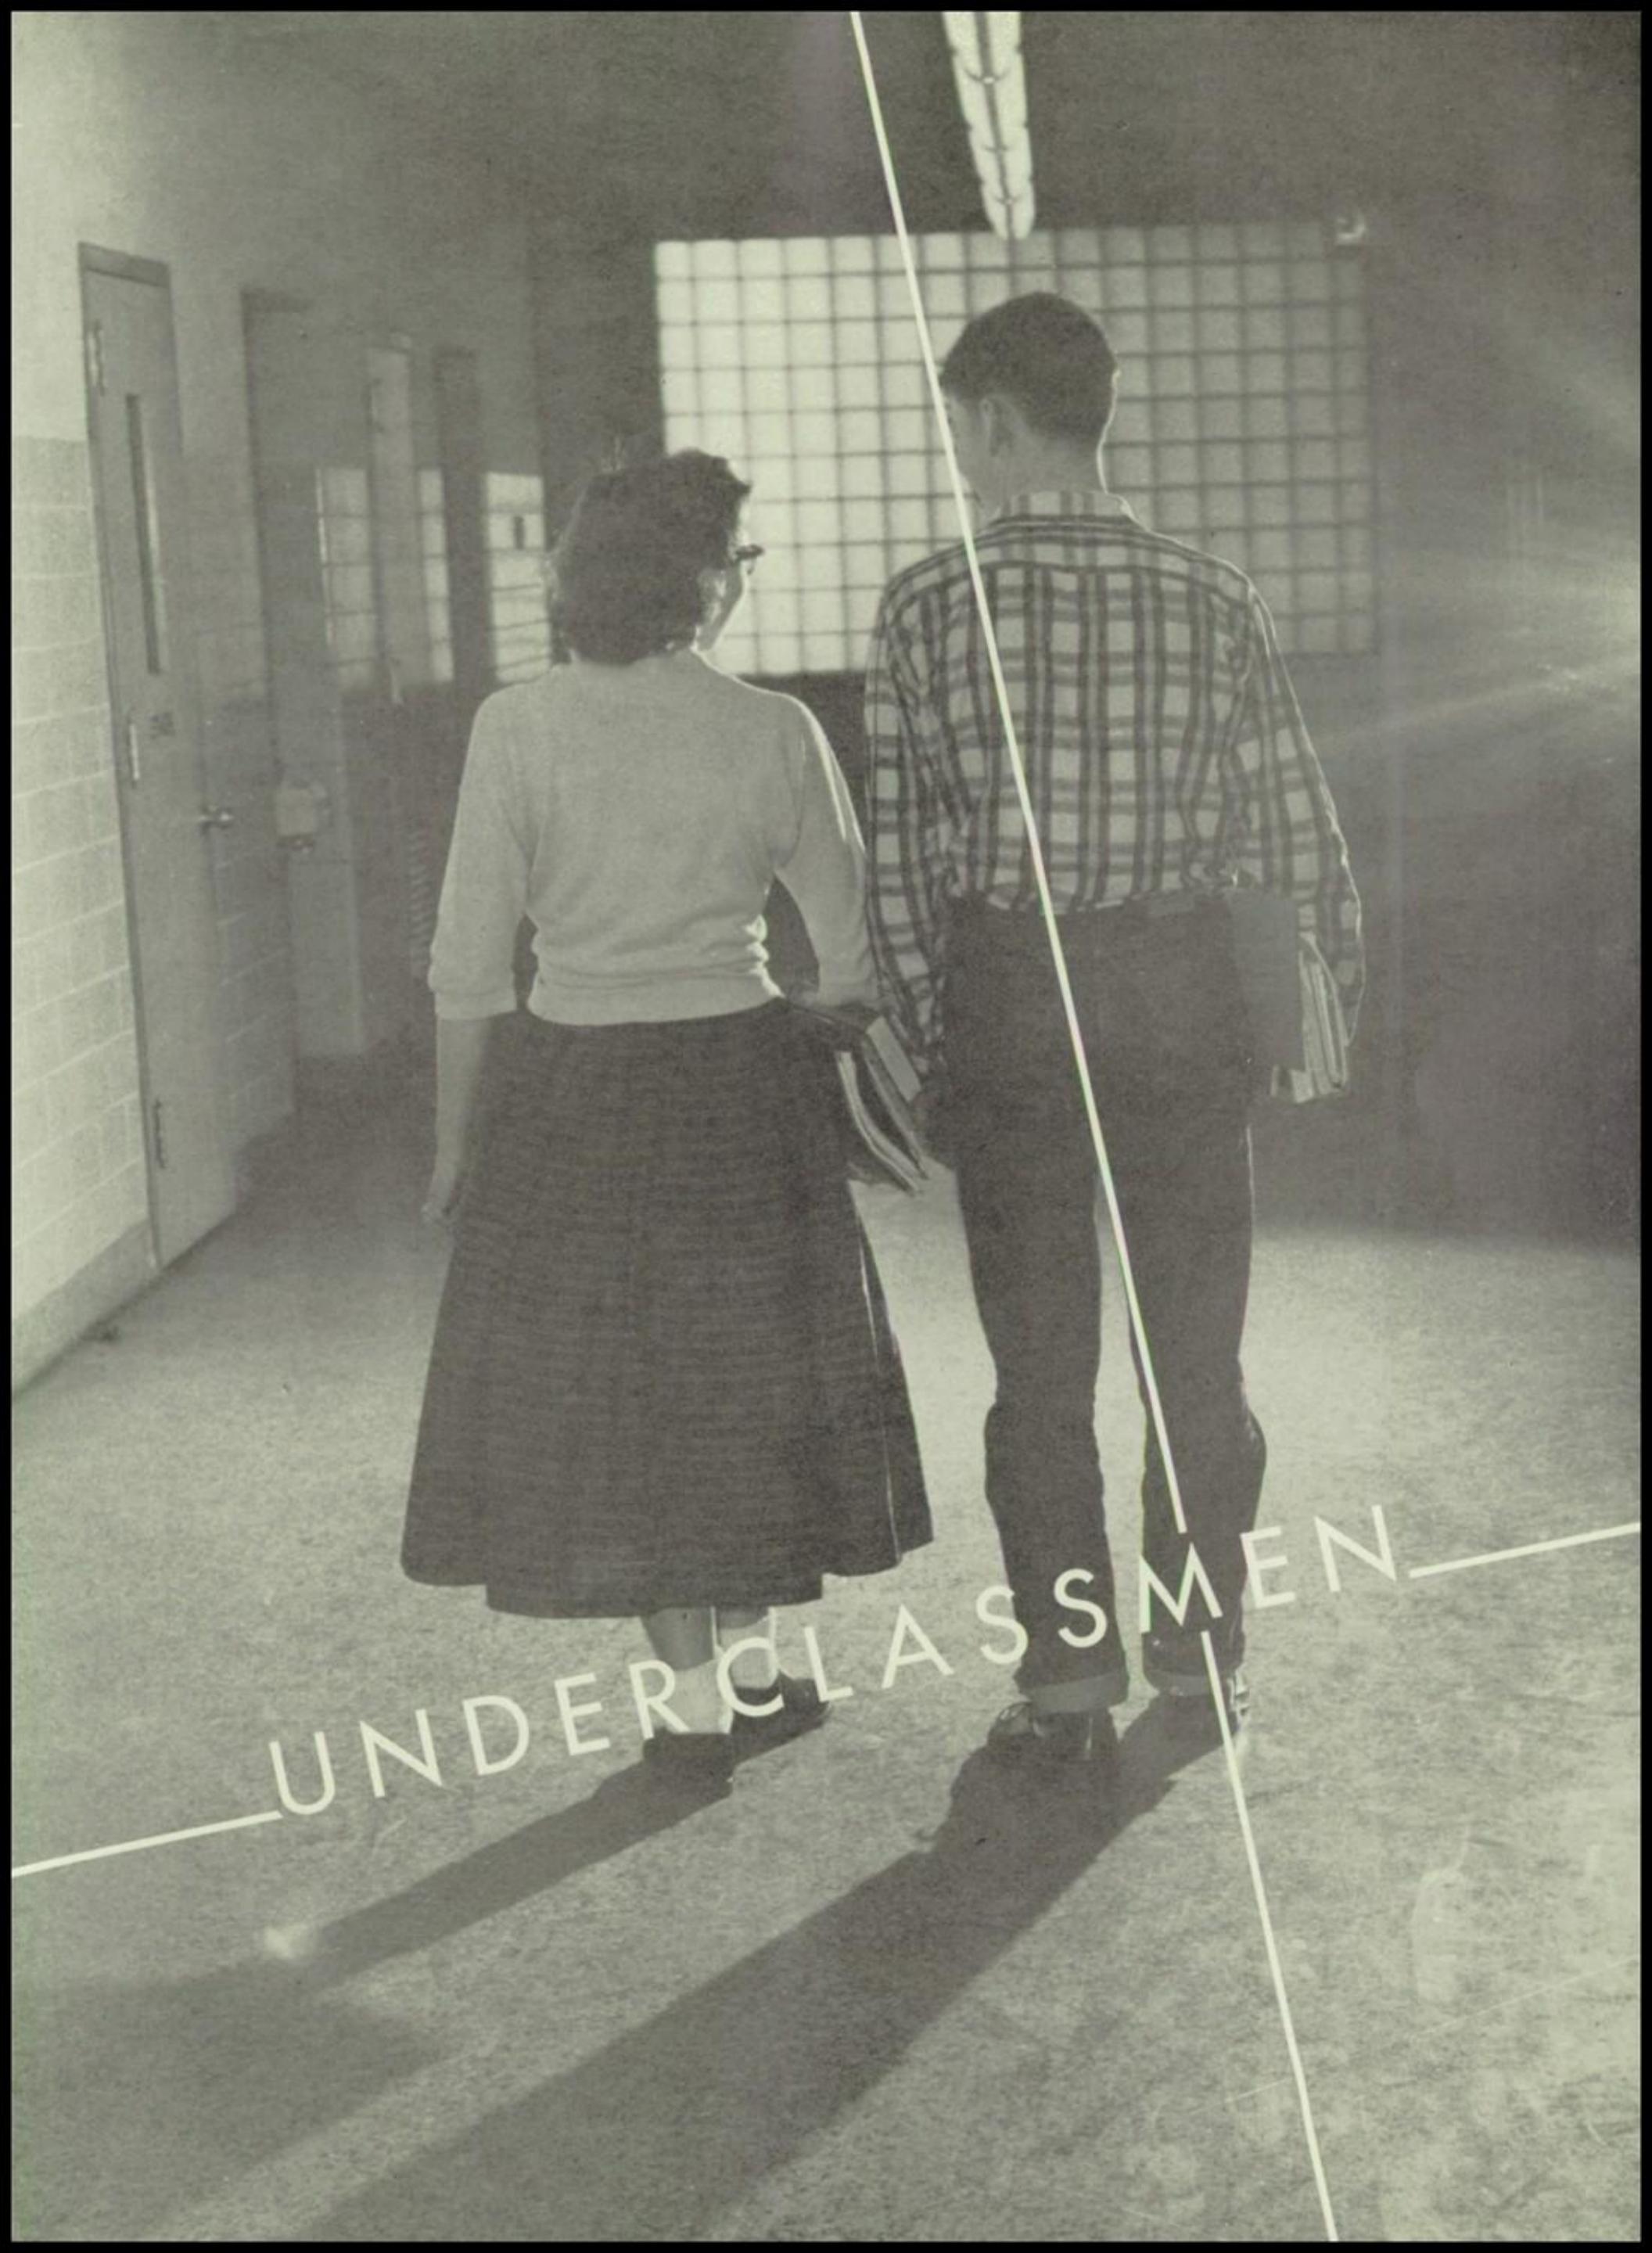

Many Boys Enjoy Intramural Program

Boys' intramurals, under the supervision of Mr. Hodge, are in a constant state of activity. In basketball, John McKenzie's team won out. Top scorers were John McKenzie, Dandy Lynn, Jim Merriman, Frank Pucci, Dennis Shanks, and Anthony Grande. Then came volley-ball, with Ron Kampfer's outfit coming out the winner. Now badminton is in progress with a tournament in which thirty-one boys will vie for the championship.

If you want excitement and spirit, you should drop in at the Beacom Memorial gym at noon on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays for some really good intramural contests.

And it cleared the net.

Football Concession Raises Senior Class Funds

This group of seniors sold popcorn, potato chips, hot-dogs, pop, and other refreshments at all home football games. The proceeds went to the senior class treasury to be used for the senior banquet, Class Day ceremonies, and other expenses of the scheduled graduation program.

Part of the senior tradition is the class play. This year the comedy-melodrama "Arsenic and Old Lace" by Joseph Kesselring was chosen. It is the judgment of the directors, Mrs. Helen Welch and Mrs. Nova Runyan, that it is wiser to do a play that ran successfully on Broadway, than to choose a lesser, even if cheaper, play.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" is a good play, and this year's cast rose nobly to their parts. The stage setting became the living room of the Brewster sisters, who, in charity and loving kindness, caused the sudden, painless demise of any elderly, homeless, and lonely old person who came along. Villainly, embodied in Jonathan, the black sheep nephew, and Right, exemplified by the normal nephew, Mortimer, clash, but all turns out well.

Everyone worked hard and made "Arsenic and Old Lace" a financial as well as an artistic success.

Sisters: Nelson, Welch; Teddy & Witherspoon: Peller, Jenkins; Lovers: Knox, Lewis; Einstein: Creaturo; Jonathan: Lynn; Cops: Long, Nelson, Dysert, Poynter; Gibbs & Harper: Croft, Geisse.

Broadway Success Becomes Center Street Triumph

Senior Execs Decide Problems

Every year, each senior homeroom elects one person to the Senior Executive Committee. Along with the officers of the senior class, these people choose the announcements, appoint people to be responsible for the various graduation activities, and decide other questions concerning seniors.
